I'm trying to get a regular expression that only matches words that are not numbers. I tried: /^[^w-]/ but it does not match: 4 . A: I think this should be: /^[^w]/ You might want to use: /^[^w_]/ or: /^[^w\d_]/ to disallow a dash or an underscore. Using a character class [^] will only match a character that is not in the character class. For example, the character class [^b] will only match the character b or the character class [^a] will only match the character a. The character class [^w-] will only match a character that is not a word character, and a hyphen, so the character class [^w-] will match all of the characters in the list [a-zA-Z0-9_] but will not match the word d, for example. You may want to use \w instead of [^w-] to match all word characters, so you might want to use [^w_]. The difference between [^w] and [^w-] is that the latter allows a hyphen. You can also use [^a-zA-Z0-9_] (where the _ is a normal character). #include "ofApp.h" Need For Speed Most Wanted is a racing video game developed by EA Black Box and published by Electronic Arts, and is the third installment in the Need for Speed series.
