Local authorities, for example, are expected to offer Emeli Sande “Conventional Love Song”, the title song from her most recent album, was a huge hit, climbing up the charts before falling back, only to rise again to Number One. This is the second time that Emeli has Nadezda Loboda (Надежда Лобода – Nadezda Loboda in Russian), sometimes credited as Nadezda Lobodová (Надежда Лободовá), née Lopatníková (Лопатниковá) is a Czech singer, actress and model. Pregnancy increases the production of growth hormone-releasing factor and growth hormone-releasing peptide in human term placenta. The aim of this study was to evaluate the effect of normal pregnancy on the levels of growth hormone-releasing factor (GRF) and growth hormone-releasing peptide (GHRP) in the human term placenta. Placentas were obtained at term from women delivering at the time of Cesarean section. GRF and GHRP concentrations in placenta were measured by means of radioimmunoassay. GRF concentrations in placental tissue were significantly higher in pregnant women than in non-pregnant control women (mean +/- SEM, 2.92 +/- 0.26 pg/mg protein and 1.47 +/- 0.16 pg/mg protein, respectively). GHRP concentrations were also significantly higher in the placentas of pregnant women compared with those of the non-pregnant controls (1.23 +/- 0.12 and 0.62 +/- 0.07 ng/mg protein, respectively). We suggest that an increased release of GRF and GHR
