Dodds, who is running for the Democratic nomination for governor, has said he will not attend the debate. Other candidates, who will be present at the event, include Republican state Rep. Paul Davis and Democratic state Sen. Bob Burns. The debate will be moderated by KUAR's Mike Mansur. The debate is scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Monday at UNR. If Dodds were to attend, it could postpone or eliminate another debate, scheduled for March 17, between Dodds and Davis. UNR's debate was originally scheduled to be held March 10 at UNLV, but Dodds, who held several campaign stops in Nevada during his own visits to the state last month, said he would not attend the event. "I would have to agree," UNR spokesman Ryan McKay told the Las Vegas Sun. "But I haven't been informed of anything." Dodds will be in Denver at a debate sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Colorado on Tuesday night. Dodds is scheduled to return to Las Vegas on Friday.Q: Double redraw in Swift How does one redraw an view to the same size and position as it was before an animation ended? The most common causes of injury in games are: concussions, collisions with other players, being hit in the head with the football, and sliding with the head or the helmet into the ground. A helmet is a protective apparatus, but it does not completely prevent head injuries. This article aims to highlight the importance of protective equipment for the prevention and management of head injuries.Q: How do I sum the values in a table where the two columns are associated through a third?
