“We have worked extremely hard to extract the necessary and crucial data from our players and used it to create the HyperMotion technology,” notes Scott Thurston, FIFA Lead Creative Director. “This technology replaces and enhances the existing player models with a new simulation of the player on the pitch. This means the player becomes three-dimensional with deeper expressions and a more authentic movement and also a physically aware and reactive defender.” In addition to the controls, players now wear 25 new animations, including improved and more accurate goal celebrations, general team warm-ups and more. How to read the FIFA 22 coverage
The FIFA 22 coverage offers in-depth information on what's new in the latest FIFA video game. Every game reviewed in the series features a wealth of details from the gameplay elements to the gameplay setup, with an overview of what makes the new game different. Full Review The brand new creator on FIFA 22 is a big one. EA Sports' long-awaited return to control football is a game that allows you to create your own team and play matches online. That said, if you're looking for just the same FIFA game with a new cover, EA has you covered. FIFA 22 has all the trappings of what you expect from a new FIFA and then some. Everything from the creation to the game itself is designed to put you in control of the game, and it absolutely succeeds. There are some weaknesses, though, and you'll have to weigh up what you really want. The controls are more responsive now, and the feel of your player is less rigid and more accurate than before. This is a slight victory for new and innovative gameplay. However, FIFA 22's maker mode is still too limited, and there are more touches of FIFA 15 here than you'll probably want. Playable Teams The FIFA 22 teams feature a host of new additions and tweaks. The best new thing is the inclusion of the J.League from Japan and the South Korean domestic league. You can play matches against them in the FUT Champions League, and they also feature in some online modes. FIFA 22 also introduces three Premier League teams: Crystal Palace, Leicester City and West Ham United. A fourth Premier League team, West Brom, is coming in a free update after launch. In addition, there are three Serie A sides - Juventus, Fiorentina and Roma - and ten teams from Germany's Bundesliga. There are 29 teams in total

As you move more fluidly through the new game, the AI will change the way they play as well. For example, AI defenders will try to close space with you, and will increase pressure when they are challenging your passing and dribbling. We've improved the physics, animations and ball control so you can control the ball more naturally. A.I. will adapt their gameplay to suit your team and even make slight adjustments for you in the heat of the battle.

EA SPORTS FIFA 20 not only sets new standards for the series, it also delivered the biggest FIFA community of all time. What were the highlights for you? There were so many highlights, but for me personally I was just so happy I could talk about and play my favourite game in the world with my friends any time I want. There were so many memories and anecdotes and I loved being part of a community that is so passionate. This year was basically the best version of the game. You’ve recently mentioned FIFA as your favourite game. Do you have any other favourites, or do you prefer to judge games on their titles? I'd say this is my favourite game because it's the game I've played the longest, but I'd say Last of Us Remastered would be number two. It's a great game. Is it hard to ask for a 'number three', though? It is! Not that I don't like it - I do, of course - but it's a personal favourite. You've touched on the lifetime achievement awards you received at last year's FIFA Summit. Has that changed your opinion on FIFA's place in the gaming industry, or do you see more of yourself as a gamer rather than a professional player? I think it changed my opinion on what the industry is in many ways. It is a very subjective opinion, but I was really surprised and delighted with how I was received. The word 'gamer' has so many different connotations now, but I think the industry has to make an effort to make it clear to those who would like to be a part of it what it is. Can you describe how it feels to receive a lifetime achievement award? It is very unique, but also very special. It's just overwhelming and I feel like the industry is turning a corner in terms of how it views and values its community. Since the inception of FIFA as a series, your transfer activity has been shrouded in secrecy. How did you feel when that changed in 2018? I loved it. It was one of the most exciting moments of the year. Everyone knows how much fun the transfer market is, but it's so subjective, and it's still an element of the game that could be improved. Did you decide to make your move to Roma

Recommendations: LINKS: Here is a picture showing the layout of Red Heart's Fall Parade blanket. It measures 32"x48" and includes a downloadable pattern. It took me about a week to make this blanket. It started with the lovely pink and red super soft yarn from Red Heart (remember, I have yarn allergies). My trusty crochet hook was supplied with this yarn. I used Red Heart's Fall Parade yarn to create the pretty pattern. I am not really a traditional crocheter, but I do
