“In playing a complete, high-intensity football match, we have been able to analyse thousands of player movements and actions,” said EA Sports FIFA and SimRacing business director Alex Mihailovic. “We’re also the first sports game to use ‘HyperMotion Technology,’ which is the next step in improving the game experience for players.” “We started working on the idea of HyperMotion Technology a year ago,” said Lead Animation Designer on Fifa 22 Serial Key Jonathan Palmer. “It helps us to be able to add more interesting animations to the player. You can see how the player is going to move through their next pass or run, and as you see that movement on-screen it changes the way the animation plays out, adding a new element to the gameplay.” The PS4 version of FIFA 22 was released worldwide in April, to coincide with the start of the UEFA Champions League and UEFA Europa League. It was developed by EA Canada, the studio that runs FIFA on the platform, and features the Impact Engine, a new physics system and Global Threats, which adds a wide range of new social and gameplay features for online modes. This summer, FIFA 22 will be available for PS4 in Europe and the Middle East, followed by North America and Latin America in early October. Early access will be granted for all eligible owners of FIFA 17. This special FIFA 17 content can also be accessed before the release of FIFA 22. This early access content adds the ability to transfer players to FIFA 22, allowing fans to experience FIFA 22 in its entirety. Sections Developed by EA Canada, FIFA 22 is powered by the Impact Engine (previously announced), which has a brand new physics system and feature rich Global Threats mode. The Impact Engine: The Impact Engine is a new approach to FIFA gameplay that provides the most realistic dribbling and passing, and delivers unprecedented levels of control. You are able to move players anywhere on the pitch - no more long, drawn out animations. With 1,200 new animations, you can react and react quickly with more realistic animations and movements. Global Threats Mode: Unlock the potential of the Impact Engine and use your custom-made team to form a squad of 6, expand your playing area to 8 km and test your tactics and tactics in a unique challenge against rival players and teams.
